

End of the Road

*I've lost my child tonight
Pain flows through me like a sieve
My heart is broken, torn apart
I've lost my will to even live.*

*I've lost the one I've loved so much
My heart leaks life with every beat
I long to feel that tender touch
A little child, I'll never meet.*

*Why must life be filled with pain?
Why must hearts be broken so?
Why must sorrow be my bane?
Why must God always say "No"?*

*I've lost the love that filled my soul
It's ripped to shreds, lost to the wind
To end this life; that is my goal
I want the pain to finally end.*
